Third party logistics partner B2B.

You've got thousands of orders... is now the time to outsource to a third party logistics partner?

One source.

The reasons may be many, but when the time comes to outsource your warehousing operations, the one thing you want to know is that people fulfilling your all-important orders can handle every aspect of the challenge. Ideally, you have one reliable supplier for all your fulfilment needs. Then you can hand over 'the whole shebang' with confidence and concentrate on what you do best.

Many advantages.

Tying up your workspace with storage of stock or 'pick and pack' operations is not always the best use of space. In a time of transition, such as your leases coming up for renewal, you may well be considering how to save money or put your space to better use. By outsourcing storage, order pick and pack and distribution, you can solve a variety of perennial problems. In many scenarios, you can also save money by outsourcing these operations to The Westex Group who have developed cost-effective systems and can obtain economies of scale which you may not achieve independently.

Here's how we can provide the remedy.

For over 30 years The Westex Group has specialised in the fulfilment and distribution requirements of companies large and small. We have the people, the resources and the expertise to handle all your outsourcing requirements.

We deliver hundreds of thousands of parcels on a per parcel/consignment basis. We use the correct delivery channel to achieve a first-class delivery experience to your customer, whether it's a B2B or B2C delivery, at the most economical cost to you.

Contract packing & GWP repacking.

Receive and repack bulk stock into new product or promotional outers and make up 'gift with purchase packs'. Our attention to detail and years of experience of handling promos gives our clients peace of mind knowing their projects are in safe hands.

Web Fulfilment B2C.

You've got a fantastic web site... but can you deliver?

What's in front?

You've got a bright idea, spotted a window in the marketplace and created the perfect product to fill it. You know that presentation is everything so you invest heavily in the design of your web site. It looks great and even better, it really works. So you also invest in a sound marketing strategy but...

Who's minding the store?

More often than not e-commerce start ups, as well as big corporations trying to catch up with the world wide web, fail to address the basic logistics of storing, picking, packing and delivering goods.

This is where we come in.

We have the people, the resources and the expertise you need to make sure your start up and your existing work grows. We can also design your web site, facilitating orders, money transactions and provide MI.

Stock Management & Order Processing system.

Westex IT systems allow clients to access management information securely via the web or system interface. Orders can be downloaded or input from all sources - a client interface, the telephone, email, web or mail. The West1 system also allows FIFO issue and full batch traceability by customer order number.

Our systems can be tailored to meet any client's specific requirement by our in-house development team, we can also design and set up web sites to interface with data.

We use RF scanning technology on some contracts, which ensures accurate and speedy put away, improves efficiency through effective location management and allows for stock history to be audited in real time. We also have EDI capability.

Clean Room.

We offer a clean room at our E3 London site which is an operational facility within our warehouse. The room offers a dust free and hygienic environment for contract packing and product manipulation.
